

PROFESSOR JULIAN SAVULESCU

B.MED.SCI.(HONS.), M.B.(HONS.), B.S.(HONS.), M.A., PH.D. FIBIOL

Professor Julian Savulescu holds the Uehiro Chair in Practical Ethics at the University of Oxford. He is the Director of the Oxford Uehiro Centre for Practical Ethics within the Faculty of Philosophy. He is Director of the Oxford Centre for Neuroethics, which is one of three strategic centres in biomedical ethics in the UK funded by the Wellcome Trust. He is also Director of the Program on the Ethics of the New Biosciences, which is one of the 10 founding Institutes within the James Martin 21st Century School at the University of Oxford. He was also recently awarded a major Arts and Humanities Research Council grant on Cognitive Science and Religious Conflict. He is author of over 200 publications and has given over 100 international presentations. He is a recognised world leader in the field of practical ethics.

In 2009, he was awarded the title of Monash Distinguished Alumni for outstanding achievement. He was also selected as the winner of the 'Thinkers' category of The Australian's Top 100 Emerging Leaders awards, presented by the Prime Minister at Parliament House. He has presented at conferences across the world including the World Economic Forum at Davos (2009) and the Mont Pelerin Society's Annual Meeting in Tokyo in 2008.

Distinguished lectures he has been invited to give include the Tanner Lectures (Oxford, 2009), the Crown Lectures (Duke, 2008), the Herbert Spencer Lectures. He was the Australian Society for Medical Research's (ASMR) National Lecturer and Medallist in 2005 and presented to the Royal Institution in 2009. He has made numerous appearances on TV, radio and in the print media, including on Andrew Denton's Enough Rope and various national news broadcasts.
